Citizens Speak Up About Contaminated Water in Franklin Twp., Pa.

Several Citizens speak up about their water wells being contaminated with highand explosive amounts of methane and high barium and other contaminants since gas drilling and fracking in their township. This has been happening the pastyear since several well sites went up around them. DEP has been at their homesand tested and they are not drinking their water. They are telling the township supervisors and the representative from WPX Energy about their problems and want help. Taped 3-6-12.This is in Susquehanna County, Pa..
